Subject: "Secret science" and "war on lead"--E&E News

Hi everyone,

I am working on an article about EPA's proposed rule about which science the agency can base rulemakings on. I've spoken to a number of public health advocates, researchers and former EPA employees who say that the proposal could severely restrict the kinds of studies EPA uses in regulating lead exposure via water, paint, dust and air. Given Admin. Pruitt's "war on lead," I wanted to ask if you had any comment on this.

My deadline is noon tomorrow.

Thanks,

Ariel
